LMI COLORADO

Do you have your Winter Check list?

Santa is not the only one with a checklist in December. We often think that just because many of our trees, shrubs, and turf have gone dormmate for the winter we can as well. That is not correct, landscape maintenance is a year-round task in Colorado. From wrapping trees, winter watering, maintaining walkways, rejuvenation prunes, as well as repairing and adding new hardscapes. Wintertime is when we start setting the stage for Spring. Oh, did I forget to mention designing your annual color beds.... All this in only a few short months.

When the time is right you need to WATER WATER WATER..

Below are some quick facts from CSU Extension <https://extension.colostate.edu/topic-areas/yard-garden/fall-and-winter-watering-7-211/>

- Water trees, shrubs, lawns, and perennials during prolonged dry fall and winter periods to prevent root damage that affects the health of the entire plant.
- Water only when air and soil temperatures are above 40 degrees F with no snow cover.
- Established large trees have a root spread equal to or greater than the height of the tree. Apply water to the most critical part of the root zone within the dripline.

Colorado Adventure SLEDDING EXPERIENCES

With thrills for children, teens and parents alike, sledding and tubing is a cherished winter pastime in Grand County. And with five favorite Grand County sledding and tubing destinations, your family can plan a whole trip around Colorado's "other downhill pastime!"

Grand County sledding and tubing is ranked at the top of Rocky Mountain sledding experiences, and between the breathtaking views and the fresh powder on every hill, you're sure to figure out why for yourself. Looking for a more unique experience? We offer several lighted facilities for night tubing during the winter, and we also have Colorado's first summer tubing hill, located in Granby, open all summer. Whether you prefer a sled or a tube, grab your gear, find a hill, and get going!
