

LMI COLORADO

Get The Dirt

Excellent People. Excellent Clients. Excellent Results

MARCH INTO SPRING WITH LMI CO

Preparing your Landscape for Spring

Early spring preparation helps landscapes transition smoothly out of winter dormancy. March is a great time to focus on:

- Spring Cleanups – Removing winter debris and preparing beds for new growth
- Irrigation Activation – Ensuring systems are ready before watering season begins
- Tree & Shrub Care – Inspecting for winter damage and addressing early issues
- Pre-Emergent – Applying pre-emergent to that targets weed seeds before they sprout.

Spring preparation isn't just for lawns and irrigation systems. Trees also benefit from early-season attention. Our Arbor Care division helps monitor tree health, prevent insect damage, and strengthen root systems so your landscape stays strong all season long.

Our Business Development team has been busy attending events with the CAI - Rocky Mountain Chapter, including their Tradeshow celebrating 50 years and the 11th Annual Bowling Event.

These gatherings are always a great opportunity to connect with clients, strengthen relationships with industry partners, and support organizations that bring our community together. We're proud to be part of such a collaborative network and look forward to many more events ahead.

SPRING FROST & SNOWS

- Snow in the spring is welcome. The snow provides great insulation for plants and can protect hardy flowers from frosty temperatures.
- The moisture provided is a real boost to bulbs and perennials that are ready to emerge. If daffodils and hyacinths are blooming and snow is predicted, cover them with a bucket or similar container
- Tolerance to freezing temperatures depends on the plant. Spring bulbs, such as tulips, crocus and daffodils, can tolerate a light frost or temperatures of 29 degrees Fahrenheit.

STAY CONNECTED

Want to see what our crews are working on and keep up with company news? Follow us on social media!

After Hours 303-294-9000 | 719-569-7037

lmico.com